Join the Women's Sexual Assault Support Group Surviving and Thriving

This support group will be open to those who identify as a woman and are a student currently attending the University of Utah. We welcome women from various sexual orientations and/or racial and ethnic identities. The group will be a space for women, who have experienced sexual assault, to come together to support one another as survivors to live successful and full lives after sexual assault. We will discuss coping strategies and techniques for survivors. The space will focus on students reflecting upon their personal and societal experiences, lessons of gender, and sexual assault while coming together for support and healing.

Fridays at the Women's Resource Center from 2:00pm – 3:30pm

If you are interested in joining, please contact us for a pre-group screening:
